

Meaning and Motivation

Terrabeo; changing earth 90 x 90 cm acrylic on canvas 2006 Collection of the artist

To be passionate about something is to be truly alive and to create something with anything less will ultimately lead to dissatisfaction. Therefore, after many years of experimenting with drawing, painting, mixed media and sculpture and exhibiting the outcomes in minor exhibitions, I began to question my work. I felt imprisoned within my own small art world and unable to break free. With the rationale that it would open my mind to modern art concepts, I decided to enroll in a university based visual arts course.
